

Presenting the end to your anxious , stressful and negative thought moments all at once.

We're delighted to represent-

1.MINDBLOOM STRESS-RELIEF CANDLE SET-This product is a candle set designed for general purpose, ambient lighting and inodorous indoor use. These candles can be used in your bedroom, bathroom and meditational area. The candles are free from any artificialities and are unprocessed beyond standard level needed. These candles are stored in a clear glass holder free from any kind of variations and illusions to give you the perfect illumination. Each candle approximately burns for 30 hours hanging upon the usage and atmosphere used in. The candles do not have any kind of technological relations.

2. MINDBLOOM ANXIETY RELIEF FIDGET CUBE SET- This product is a set of 5 indistinguishable fidget cubes designed for personal use. They are made from ABS plastic. Their surface has matte white finish suitable for your eyes. These cubes have five interactive features-a group of click buttons consisting of three soft-pressure buttons and firm pressure buttons, a miniature joystick, a flip switch and a metal rolling ball.

The cubes emit soft clicking noises during normal usage helping to calm your in silent atmosphere.

FORMAL-

The MindBloom Stress-Relief candle set comes with four unscented candles wholeheartedly intended for natural illumination that provides serene atmosphere so that your mind, soul and body can relax. As a brand, we solely focus on purity, safety and sustainability and these candles are made from 100% soy wax, free from preservatives and synthetic dyes.

WITTY-

The MindBloom Stress-Relief candles are made from 100% soy wax. We skip the scented stuff coz your boss is already enough to trigger your headaches. So no distractions, no drama-just subtle hue of these candles to brighten up your life and let you live your main-character era.

GENZ-

MindBloom Stress-Relief candles are clean of 100% soy wax. NO fake fragrances like those fake friends. We use biodegradable raw-material for the manufacturing of our product because the planet has enough problems, so we do not want our candles to stick around like that ex who just won't go away. Perfect for journaling, easy-breezy mood and ignoring "the cute little red flags".

I chose a formal tone because many of the high-class audience seek a formal description of the product they're purchasing. The witty tone evenly balances the formal as well as playful way of describing a product which can appear to be more memorable to customers. The Genz tone uses different slangs which are widely used by current youth generation making it look more attractive and promising.
